

EquipmentShare Responds to Inaccurate Short Report

COLUMBIA, MO., September 25, 2026 — EquipmentShare.com Inc (Nasdaq: EQPT) (“EquipmentShare”), a leader in connected jobsite technology and one of the largest construction equipment rental providers in the United States, today issued the following statement:

The recent report by Blue Orca Capital mischaracterizes EquipmentShare’s business model, financial statements, and the OWN Program. As an entity with a disclosed short position, the author stands to profit directly from short-term stock volatility driven by misleading narrative claims.

EquipmentShare remains focused on executing its growth strategy, driving strong operational performance, and expanding its footprint across the construction technology and rental markets. We account for all material commercial agreements—including the OWN Program—in strict accordance with U.S. GAAP and SEC disclosure requirements. Our financial statements are independently audited by a Big 4 accounting firm.

Our fundamentals, addressable market, and long-term momentum have never been stronger. We remain confident that the ongoing execution of our strategy and the strength of our business will continue to deliver long-term value for our shareholders.
